Rolf John Frerichs.

Rolf John Frerichs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Frerichs, died in the government tubercular sanitarium, Fort Bayard, New Mexico, at 6:00 o'clock last Saturday morning, aged about 21 years and 8 months.

The people of Hondo knew that the young man was engaged in battle with an enemy more difficult to vanquish than any he had fearlessly faced on the blood-soaked soil of France, and many a silent prayer was wafted to Him on high that he might again be victorious. But it was not to be, and in his passing Hondo has contributed another of her gallant young sons as a victim of one of the most inhuman wars ever staged by man.

This valiant young soldier was among the first to volunteer his services following the declaration of war; he joined Company C, 141st Infantry, and received his training at Camp Bowie, Fort Worth. As he had lived a care-free, unrestrained life, the incessant grind of life in the army grew irksome and he proved a rather difficult soldier to control. But evidently the officers under whom he was placed recognized the soldierly qualities of the young man, and when the 36th Division was sent overseas he crossed to the battlefields of France; shortly after arriving over there he was detached from the 36th and placed in the Rainbow Division, and engaged in the great battles in which that fighting unit of the American overseas forces so distinguished itself. In one of the battles he was severely gassed; this so seriously affected his lungs that tuberculosis developed; he was invalided home, arriving at Hoboken, New Jersey, in June, where he was placed in a government hospital; about one month ago he was sent to the government sanitarium at Fort Bayard where, as stated above, the end came last Saturday morning.

Rolf was truly a Hondo boy, having been born and spent his entire life here, and was well known to all our people, and his death has caused universal sorrow.

Besides his parents Rolf Frerichs leaves one brother, Erwin, his grandparents, Mrs. Rolf Frerichs, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schuehle, and numerous near and dear relatives and friends to mourn his death.

The grief stricken parents and relatives have the heartfelt sympathy of everybody in this section.

The casket with the mortal remains of deceased arrived yesterday afternoon via San Antonio, from where Mr. Fritz Frerichs joined the escort of the body to Hondo.

The funeral will take place this afternoon at 4 p. m. in the new Hondo Cemetery.

The Jug Found.

TARPLEY, TEXAS, Sept. 13, 1919.
To the One Who Opens This Jug:
This jug was sealed and thrown in the creek at the Coughran Ranch during the big rain, which has already registered more than 12 inches.

Respectfully,

ELMER E. COUGHRAN.
The above letter was found in a jug pitched up in the Hondo bottom on the Chas. Graff & Sons' Ranch, about one mile south of the railroad bridge, and brought to this office Wednesday. The jug was found by Mr. A. J. Graff Tuesday morning, September 16, three days after being thrown in the creek at Tarpley. Just how this jug escaped destruction in the swirling, tumbling waters on its journey down the Hondo to its final resting place in the Graff pasture, seems almost a miracle.

Life

The simple lass.
The broken working man.
When life entered the door.
Only a gutter bum.
The woman who knew no shame.

By W. Alexander Inlay

She was only a simple girl from the country. She entered the big city in the hope of earning enough money to give her the clothing of the fashion plate ladies and movie queens. Perhaps she came with the intent of making herself useful in the world.

She got a job. It was work, if that constitutes a job? She slaved nine hours a day behind a counter or possibly she stacked matches in boxes—no matter she got the job.

And the salary, magnificent—$10 a week. The clerks in Perkins' store back home only got $6 but then she was ignorant as yet you see.

So she drifted along until one fine night she found herself hanging over the railing of the river bridge, pocketbook empty, hungry—contemplating a leap from the bridge—or worse.

Then there is the working man. He knows no trade for he grew up in untrammelled America where one is permitted to do as he pleases. An indulgent father had not insisted on him learning anything useful. His mother upheld him in idleness.

Possibly the father went broke. Possibly he never had anything. At least we find our hero at forty, discouraged, knowing no trade, on the bum.

A bad season strikes his section of the country. He has no money, no friends. Then we find him—where?

Riding the rods to a better land, in jail and out, a knight of the cinder trail.

The poor man comes one dreary night to a cold home. He is out of work. He knows no friends. His children are huddled around a stove in which the last embers are dying. A small girl of four weeps for food.

A mother in the next room—there are two rooms—lies in a bed of old blankets and ragged great coats. She is moaning in pain.

A little life is to come into the world before many hours have passed. There is no doctor, no provisions. There is no fire, no light.

In despair the man goes into the night stumbling against the cold wind seeking assistance in his trouble.

There is a gutter bum who has no knowledge of how loathsome he really is. Drunken, abused, kicked and cuffed he dodges all human beings.

Like a trounced dog he avoids people yet he must seek them. At last he decides that he is down and out. He goes down the street with longing in his heart. He longs to tell some one how he despises self.

He has reached the turning point. Will some one hold out a hand?

Ha! ha! he laughs. He knows the world.

Then there is the woman without shame. Christ had compassion on her kind but she has come to think that no one else had. Harpy like she plies her way about the streets of the great city.

Her cheeks are incarnadine. Her soul is as red as her painted lips. Her eyes are as full of guile as the misshapen mind.

Unloved, much caressed, hunted, a prey upon society she comes to the last step down, then she finds gold in her heart. Does anyone else find it?

So they run through the annals of life. But here is what happened.

The simple girl went to a clean boarding house and after a few years made good. She blossomed into a flower of pure womanhood.

The workingman went to working man's hotel. He was given shelter and clothing with food as the lowly Nazarene commanded. He learned a trade and became useful. He became a producer.

The poor man sent his wife to a maternity home where she received good care. His children were sent food, clothing and fuel.

The gutter bum was offered a chance at self rehabilitation. He made good. He quit drink, got a job and was useful.

The harpy was sent to a rescue home and became a woman. She who was old only in experience again learned the simple love of a child. She was saved for the world.

Each was saved through the Salvation Army and its organizations for mankind.

USEFUL IN MINING DISASTERS

Wartime Device. Perfected by American Engineers. Has a Practical Purpose in Peace.

In the latter days of the war reports emanated from France of a mysterious listening device which "heard" sounds inaudible to the ear and located their source. The same mechanism developed to highly practical form by American engineers, has now been adopted by the United States bureau of mines for locating miners accidentally entombed, says Popular Mechanics magazine.

The instrument, called a "geophone," is practically a miniature seismograph. It is quite simple, consisting of an iron ring closed at each side by a diaphragm of mica. In the center is suspended by a bolt through the diaphragms, a disk of lead. A brass cap forms an air chamber at each end. To the center of one cap is attached a rubber tube with stethoscopic earpieces.

The metal case, set on end on the ground, vibrates to every shock; but the lead disk, held by inertia, does not. The resulting disturbance of the mica diaphragms is communicated to the earpieces with extraordinary sensitiveness.

With two instruments, one for each ear, the listener can accurately locate the source of the sound, and even identify the cause. In government tests pounding with a sledge was located through 1,350 feet of bituminous coal, other concussions registering in proportion.

Misplaced Slang.

A story that has a point worth thinking about was recently printed in the Louisville Courier-Journal. A boy had passed a fairly good examination, and his prospective employer told him to report the next morning.

"I gotcha," said the boy.

"But you haven't got the job yet," was the swift reply, "and what's more, you never will."

"FAKE" ASPIRIN WAS TALCUM

Therefore Insist Upon Genuine "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin"

Millions of fraudulent Aspirin Tablets were sold by a Brooklyn manufacturer which later proved to be composed mainly of Talcum Powder. "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin," the true, genuine, American made and American owned Tablets are marked with the safety "Bayer Cross."

Ask for and then insist upon "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" and always buy them in the original Bayer package which contains proper directions and dosage.

Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylicacid.

Historic Tree Now Only a Memory.

The "tree in the road" a mile and a half west of Hartford, Mich., has been cut down to clear the way for a new concrete road. This maple tree, supposed to be more than a hundred years old, was the most famous and most cherished landmark of the region. Standing in the middle of the road on the crest of a hill, it had from the time of the oldest inhabitant been used as a point from which all distances were measured.

In giving directions a place was always said to be a certain distance "this side of the tree in the road" or a certain distance "beyond the tree in the road." With the advance of civilization, however, the natives have reluctantly concluded that the tree can be dispensed with, since the only distance people ask about now is the distance between gasoline tanks.—Exchange.

Education in China.

China is still in the transition period in education. The modern school has not entirely replaced the ancient methods, with large emphasis on the classics, verbal memorizing and the writing of the essay. The conception of the need of practical education is on the increase. The minister of agriculture in Peking said when calling men for the forestry division, "I want men who can grow trees, not essays."

AMERICA'S PLEDGE SACRED--WILSON

PRESIDENT SAYS OUR PROMISE TO TRY TO PREVENT FUTURE WARS SHOULD BE KEPT.

ONLY HOPE IS IN WORLD LEAGUE

Days Germany Would Not Have Dared to Strike if Nations Had Been Banded Against Aggression.

(By Mt. Clemens News Bureau.)

St. Louis—Displaying a high confidence that his fellow citizens in the great majority agree with him in his desire to end war forever, and that the peace treaty with its League of Nations inclusion is ratified by the Senate, President Wilson is making a successful way across the country on the long journey he has undertaken for the purpose of laying before the plain people a report of his work in Paris and explaining to them just what the League means.

Thus far in his travels he has everywhere met with warm greetings, both from the great halls where he has spoken formally and in the little cross and hamlets where his train has halted at times and he has exchanged words with the villagers who pressed forward to greet him. He feels, and does not hesitate to say so when talking with his traveling companions, that the American people want more of war and want to become part of the League so that there may be no more war. He struck his keynote when he said in his first address, Columbus, Ohio:

"This treaty was not intended merely to end this single war. It is meant as a notice to every government who the future will attempt this thing (that Germany attempted) that mankind will unite to inflict the same punishment. There is no national triumph to be recorded in this treaty. There is no glory sought for any particular nation. The thought of the American people around that table of their people, of the sufferings they had gone through, of the losses they had incurred, of that great throbbing heart which was so depressed, of the sorrow, so sad in every memory it held of the five tragical years that have gone by. Let us never forget these years, my fellow countrymen; let us never forget the purpose, high and disinterested, with which America has its strength, not for its own glory but for the defense of mankind."

As I said, this treaty was not merely to end this war. It is intended to prevent any similar war. Under it some of the opponents of the League of Nations have forgotten promises we made our people before we went to that peace table. We taken by process of law the power of our youth from every country, from every household, and we those mothers and fathers and sons and wives and sweethearts who were taking those men to a war which would end business that sort, and if we do not end it, we do not do the best that human sort of action can do to end it, we of all men the most unfaithful—most unfaithful to the loving hearts who suffered in this war, the unfaithful to those households and in grief and yet lifted with the thought that the lad laid down his life a great thing, and, among other things, in order that other lads might have to do the same thing."

That is what the League of Nations is for—to end this war justly and then not merely to serve notice on governments which could contend that they will do so at their peril, also concerning the combination of power which will prove to them they will do it at their peril. It is to say the worlds will combine against you; but it is persuasive to the world is combined against the League of Nations."

The only thing that can prevent the recurrence of this dreadful catastrophe is the League of Nations. The League of Nations would have ended the late conflict, the president asserted, explaining:

"I did not meet a single public man who did not admit these things; that any would not have gone into war if she thought Great Britain was going into it, and she most certainly would never have gone into it if she dreamed America was going to. And they all admit that a beforehand that the greatest of the world would combine to prevent this sort of thing would prevent absolutely."

He and cheers greeted the declaration of the president that wars might be avoided in the future by operations of the League. He pointed out other features of the Peace League, how it was the redemption of nations, giving them freedom otherwise they never could have; how it says "These people are right to live their own lives, choose their own governments, choose their own principles, and how that is the man Principle and I was glad to see it," and that was the very of the Treaty, he said. He drew attention to the section of the Treaty which is a "Magna Charta for the world," which shall dispose of the conditions and remunerations for the day," he said. He thought to have come long ago, statesmen will realize that no is fortunate which is not happy, those people are not contented, and in their lives and fortunate circumstances of their lives." He concluded the president said he was only impatient of the delay in the world that is trusted in the United States and the is waiting to see if its trust is

"WHAT ABOUT THE HORSES?"

We had sought the sweet seclusion of an old estaminet
And the wine-cup circulated in the old familiar way.
We had fed our hearts on memories, and talked as soldiers will Of the comrades "pushing daisies" on a barren shell-marked hill.
But one Western boy was silent—never lifted up his head Till resentment seemed to stir him, and he raised his eyes and said:

"But what about the horses
In the roll call of the dead?
Are they mentioned in the losses—
Has a single word been said?
Is there any simple token of their agony unspoken—
Have they any wooden crosses
In the valleys where they bled?"

Our thoughts flew back like lightning, and across the brimming cup
We saw the hosts of burden bringing ammunition up—
The endless line of transport winding all across the hill.
And the starving and the dying on the fields at Aubreyville—
The misery, the fortitude of those that had been gassed,
And eyes of silent sorrow, pleading patience as they passed.

Aye, "What about the horses?"
On the blazoned scroll of Fame—
The pulling, hauling horses,
And the broken, blind and lame, Giving every ounce of power, to the gasp, dying hour—
Where's the martyr in the forces Played a better, braver game?
—William V. V. Stephens, Eleventh Engineers, U. S. A.

VERGING ON THE SARCASTIC

Caddy's Suggestion Indicated He Was a Little Disgusted With His Golfing Associate.

A-golfing he would go, so he bought a complete outfit at a West end shop, and spent several hours dressing himself for the part. Then he hid himself to the course and engaged a caddy to carry his expensive set of clubs.

But he couldn't play golf. The nearest he could get to hitting the ball was lifting huge pieces of turf, which the caddy sternly told him had to be replaced. After the seventeenth miss he lifted a large square of grass, and, holding it up, looked appealingly at the caddy.

"What shall I do with this?" he asked despairingly.
"I don't know, sir," said the caddy.
In disgust, "unless you take it home and practice on it."—London Tit-Bits.

PROUD OF OLD ROMAN CAMP

Sleepy English Village Has Attraction
Which Is a Delight to the Archeologist.

Burgh castle is at first sight a typical Suffolk village, with church, rectory and substantial farmhouses. But as you become acquainted with Burgh castle, you find that it has historic associations and that it is proud of them. If you stroll down a certain peaceful lane, you come upon a series of broken, vine-clad walls, rising from the grassy field. It is the remnant of a Roman camp, and Burgh castle's most priceless possession.

Eighteen hundred years ago Rome built here a camp for her horsemen, who were to conquer the simple Angles.
Skilled workmen quickly erected tiled walls of clay, strengthened by bastions and surrounded by a marsh. Within the walls, tents were pitched in orderly streets, with the commanding officer's quarters in the center and his sub-officers about him. The Romans had come intending to stay. Three hundred years later they left the land of the Angles without having accomplished their purpose of conquest.

The well-built Roman walls have finally succumbed to the pressure of time, and now are almost fallen, but even when they are gone their story will be remembered in the souvenirs of Roman invaders treasured in almost every Burgh castle home. In the digging of a well or the foundation of a house there is always the exciting possibility of upturning another bit of pottery or a coin of the Caesars, and such a discovery is cause for rejoicing throughout the village.—"Niksah," in Chicago Daily News.

Not a Bit Nervous.

The girl came on from the West, the man from the East, meeting at the home of the bridegroom's brother in Chicago, to participate in the ceremony which would make them man and wife. Both were hurriedly dressing for the eight o'clock ceremony, as the officiating minister was due at another home for an 8:45 wedding.

Suddenly the bridegroom rushed frantically from his room into the hall, encountering his brother, who exclaimed: "Don't get nervous, Fred.
You have 20 minutes."

"I'm not nervous," he answered, "but I can't find my collar."
"You're excited, that's all," laughed
the brother. "There's your collar, already fastened at the back of your neck."

Highbrow Cat Causes Trouble.

Somewhere in Tacoma a highbrow Angora cat may be associating in dark insanitary alleys with low-down gutter-bred felines. Even now its beautiful fur may have been soiled and torn by some low-browed alley cat.
The owner believed a neighbor had the cat and inserted an ad in a daily newspaper, in which he named the neighbor and went on to say if he would return the cat no questions would be asked. The neighbor says he never even knew there was such a cat, and is suing the cat's owner. Meanwhile the highbrow cat still is missing.

SAHARA MAY BE RECLAIMED

Good Possibility of Its Being Made into a Reasonably Productive Agricultural Country.

That the Sahara will some day
"blossom like the rose," or at any rate like a reasonably productive agricultural country, is the gist of an article by J. Nicholas Brusse in La Nation of Paris. For more than a quarter of a century, Mr. Brusse declares, although people in general have thought of the Sahara as an enormous, permanently hopeless expanse of sand, those acquainted with the results of a geographical survey conducted about 1893 have known also that the Sahara is not absolutely unfit for either plant or animal life. Rain falls sometimes in the great desert and there are underground streams that could be made available for water. The present oases could be developed and others created, provided a beginning were made, by establishing strategic roads and introducing a sense of law and order among the desert tribes for the security of those who were trying to develop the country. In its entirety the region included in the Sahara contains already a good deal of spontaneous vegetation; it grows a number of forage plants and shrubs that serve as pasture for caravans, and could doubtless be improved and made valuable by cultivation. Fig trees, apricots, peaches, grapes and various cereals have been grown in the oases.

PRINCE'S MEMORY WAS GOOD

Heir to British Throne Had One Quality That Is Indispensable to Politician.

On one occasion Mr. Louis Sterne, an engineer and inventor, and a friend of Charles Dickens, showed the late Edward VII, then prince of Wales, his exhibits at South Kensington and the Crystal Palace.

"The next time I met the prince,"
said Mr. Sterne, "I was crossing Piccadilly, at the top of St. James street. In trying to escape being run down I ran directly into the arms of his royal highness. He at once recognized me and said: 'Mr. Sterne, you should give this traffic time and never cross the bows.' I expressed surprise that he should recognize me, to which he replied that he never forgot either face or name if associated with any matter of interest."

Mr. Sterne met the prince again at a picture exhibition where a portrait of the late W. H. Smith was hung. Turning to the princess, his royal highness said:

"Hallo, there's Smith!"
At once a man standing near turned around and acknowledged the recognition, offering his hand, which the prince unhesitatingly accepted. When this man, whose name happened to be Smith, recognized the prince, he became embarrassed and, with the lady who accompanied him, made his exit
as soon as possible.

According to Cotton Statistician J. P. Lippold there were 201 bales of cotton ginned in Medina county from the 1919 cotton crop up to September 1st of the present year, against 1,995 bales up to same date last year—a difference of 1,794 bales in favor of the 1918 crop. As the storm of last Sunday destroyed considerable open cotton in the fields it is probable the next report will show an even greater disparity in the crops than is shown in the first report.

The Storm.

One of the severest storms ever experienced in the history of Hondo struck here about 2:00 last Sunday afternoon and raged with unabated fury until about 6:00 o'clock Monday morning. Shade trees were uprooted, telegraph and electric poles were blown down, fences demolished, outhouses unroofed and removed from their foundations and nearly every dwelling house in the town flooded by the terrific wind forcing the rain under the shingles of the roofs, and around door and window facings.

The wind blew with considerable force throughout the morning, gradually growing in force as the day advanced and by 4:00 o'clock p. m. a pretty stiff gale was upon us. During the night the wind veered around to the east-southeast, and increased in volume until the most severe storm ever experienced by the oldest inhabitant was raging.

During the storm and up to noon Monday a perfect deluge of rain fell, Judge Haass' gauge indicating a precipitation of some 5.45 inches.

The front fire wall of Eugen Huesser's saddlery shop was blown off and the brick scattered promiscuously; the air dome, Hondo's summer picture show play house, was wrecked beyond repair and has since been torn down, the banisters around the balcony at the Armstrong Hotel were blown down and fifteen or twenty window lights blown out; a portion of the banisters of the upper gallery of the Richter Hotel was torn off; a flue at the Catholic Church was destroyed, and many of the residences received minor damages. Quite a number of windmills were destroyed, but as many of the rural telephone lines were put of commission and the rain rendering the roads almost impassable preventing the people from coming into town, the full damage outside the town is not yet known. The greatest loss suffered will perhaps fall on the farmers, all open cotton being completely destroyed.

All the streams overflowed, the Verde creek being higher than ever before known. Mr. Lebold was probably the heaviest loser by the unprecedented flood in the creek, his house, barn, buggy, hack, automobile and a number of colonies of bees being swept away.

The water got up to the rails of the Southern Pacific bridge over the Hondo but the structure stood the strain without material damage; the county bridge, just below the railroad bridge, was put out of use, the approach on the west being washed out, and it will be sometime before this bridge will be in serviceable condition; the county bridge over the Verde is badly damaged, the approaches washed out, and it will take considerable time to put it in serviceable condition; while the bridges over the Hondo on the Hondo-Devine road, is destroyed and will have to be rebuilt.

The only fatality reported was the drowning of a Mexican in the Hondo at the Decker ranch. We are not advised as to whether or not the body has been recovered.

Monroe Taylor, with his discharge from the navy in his pocket, reached home Friday evening. He was on the Pacific slope at the time of the declaration of war, enlisted in the navy and was attached to the Asiatic squadron and saw lots of hard service on board the cruiser Brooklyn, the flag ship of the fleet, in Russian waters, up around Archangel. The people of Hondo are glad to welcome him home again.

Automobile Paint. Holloway Bros.

If a bad beginning makes a good ending then the coming term of the Hondo public school should be the most successful in its history. The school was scheduled to open Monday morning, but as neither the faculty or pupils had provided themselves with books, and as it was impossible to reach the school building without them, the opening day had to be deferred until Tuesday morning.

Mrs. C. D. Conley.

The loss of Mrs. C. D. Conley and her 7 year old daughter in the great Corpus Christi storm caused great sorrow in Hondo. She was the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. J. T. Horger, and she was raised in Hondo. As the days went by and no definite news as to her fate was received people hoped that by some freakish act of the storm she had been carried to some place on the coast where she could not communicate with her friends, but this hope was dispelled Saturday morning when her name appeared among the identified dead. Miss Etta Horger was married to Mr. C. D. Conley some eight or nine years ago and went to Corpus Christi to make her home. Her untimely passing has caused universal sorrow among our people.

Besides her parents, Rev. and Mrs. J. T. Horger, deceased is survived by three brothers, John A. Horger of Hondo, W. C. Horger of Charlotte, Caughy Horger of College Station, and one sister.

May a merciful Heavenly Father comfort them in their terrible bereavement is the prayer of all our people.

Sweetheart of Fighter is Kept by S.A.

Soldier Boy Leaves His Girl With Gospel Workers To Be Cared for in War.

She was just a little red-cheeked country girl who had come to the city to work. She hadn't come for any story-book motive, such as paying off the mortgage on the old farm. She was just a country girl who wanted to make a little money of her very own. There wasn't any chance at home. There was the butter and egg money, of course, but the family was large and there wasn't much to sell. So, like hundreds of other country girls, she came to the city to work.

She secured a position as nurse-girl to two children, not much smaller than herself—she was scarcely more than fifteen. But the wages she drew amounted to very little more than the butter and egg money back home. The children were not always kind and she could never do as she wished, but always what they desired.

Finds World Unkind.

A vague, hurt, longing came into her heart. She wanted to see mother and dad. She wanted to feed the baby chickens; to rub old Dobbin's nose; to hunt hen's nests; to ride to the pasture for the cows; she was just plain homesick.

One of her duties was to take the children to the park in the afternoon. This was rather pleasant, usually, but one day when the ache in her heart was the strongest, and the children were more unkind than usual, she awoke to the fact that she wanted companionship—some one with whom she could talk of the things she liked to talk about, and then she saw him.

He was a soldier boy and was sitting on a bench in the park near where the children were playing. He was a bit lonely too, and in a very short time the homesick souls were sharing troubles. Every day she met him there and then one day, he was called away. That day at the park he told her good-bye. But before he left, he took the girl to a Salvation Army home. The boy twirled his cap in embarrassment as the matron talked to him, but he looked her square in the eyes.

He Was Square

"I've treated her square," he said, "but she will get lonesome again and the next fellow might not be so square. So I am wanting you to care for her and look after her for me while I am gone."

The girl stayed at the home, and when the war was over, a big, browned fellow rushed into the home, calling, "Mary!"

Mary was there and the two were married in the home. Now Mary and Mary's soldier boy are living on the old farm, caring for mother and father, and just being happy. And when they go to the city, they never fail to visit the Salvation Army home, which, they say, meant home for both of them.

When the bowels feel uncomfortable and you miss the exhilarating feeling that always follows a copious morning operation, a dose of HERBINE will set you right in a couple of hours. If taken at bedtime you get its beneficial effect after breakfast next day. Sold by W. H. Windrow.

Peruvian Flower Festival.

Peru celebrates a custom which dates from soon after the Spanish conquest. All soldiers' graves alike are decorated, including those of peons and Indians, individuals little regarded in Peru, at all events during life. In the evening the populace gives itself over to feasting and merrymaking. This particular flower festival is held annually on November 1.

Swellings of the flesh caused by inflammation, cold, fractures of the bone, toothache, neuralgia or rheumatism can be relieved by applying BALLARD'S SNOW LINIMENT. It should be well rubbed in over the part affected. Its great healing and penetrating power eases the pain, reduces the swelling and restores natural conditions. Sold by W. H. Windrow.

No Worms in a Healthy Child

All children troubled with worms have an unhealthy color, which indicates poor blood, and as a rule, there is more or less stomach disturbance. GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC given regularly for two or three weeks will enrich the blood, improve the digestion, and act as a General Strengthening Tonic to the whole system. Nature will then throw off or dispel the worms, and the child will be in perfect health. Pleasant to take. 60c per bottle.

A WORD WITH WOMEN

Valuable Advice for Hondo Readers.

Many a woman endures with noble patience the daily misery of backache, pains about the hips, blue, nervous spells, dizziness and urinary disorders, hopeless of relief because she doesn't know what is the matter.

It is not true that every pain in the back or hips is trouble "peculiar to the sex." Often when the kidneys get congested and inflamed, such aches and pains follow.

Help the weakened kidneys. Don't expect them to get well alone.

Doan's Kidney Pills have won the praise of thousands of women. They are endorsed at home—Read this Hondo woman's convincing statement.

Mrs. C. N. Brown, Hondo, says, "About a year ago I was troubled with my kidneys and had a terrible backache. I suffered from a dull, heavy pain in my kidneys all the time and my hands would feel numb. I was awfully dizzy at times and felt tired and worn out and had no ambition, and my kidneys didn't act right at all. I bought a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at Windrow's Drug Store and they cured my back. I am now as well and strong as ever."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Brown had, Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgs., Buffalo, N. Y.

ON GLORY'S TRAIL

By Billie Pierson

I went to sleep the other day—"twas quite unusual, by the way, for I believe that it is right to do one's slumbering at night. However, strange as it may seem I slept—and sleeping, dreamed a dream. (Here it is):

I journeyed to a little town, a village of no small renown, a place of pleasure, pride, and joy for man or woman, girl or boy. It seemed that each one wished to do things only that were good and true, so it was natural to feel that living there would be ideal. The homes were all so clean and neat; no painted girls were on the street; the parks were free from dirt or shirk; no ragged huns were hunting work; no ragged children, dirty, rude, were seen to steal or beg for food; no grumpy clothes, no rags were seen for everyone was neat and clean.

"'Twas wonderful—then I awoke. Said I: 'That dream was not a joke.' How'er unreal it all may seem the dream I dreamed was NOT a dream. Salvation Army centers see this dream of mine a reality. The poor are helped, the hungry fed, the bum is given food and bed while factory girl or bum or clerk—all who apply are given work. A home of rescue for the stray who's somehow lost the better way; all this and more these workers do to make a town ideal for you.

And now's a chance for you to do as you would have others do. Add dollars to the home campaign—your money won't be spent in vain.

Wood Visits in Ardmore

Lieutenant Colonel George Wood made a trip to Ardmore, Oklahoma, last week for the purpose of addressing the Rotary and Lions' clubs in a joint meeting with the Chamber of Commerce. The Ardmore boosters have raised their quota from $10,000 to $25,000 for the home service fund. They will build corps barracks with the money.

SURGEONS agree that in cases of Cuts, Burns, Bruises and Wounds, the FIRST TREATMENT is most important. Good for Biliousness.

"I took two of Chamberlain's Tablets last night, and I feel fifty per cent better than I have for weeks, says J. J. Firestone, of Allegan, Mich. "They are certainly a fine article for biliousness."

Devine News Items.

Mrs. Bertha Bippert and granddaughter, Miss Mildred, were in from Natalia, Monday and report Albert and Fred convalescing from fever.

One of our wealthiest citizens at the head of $250,000 business interests at Devine, has made his first purchase of a car this week, and it is a Ford. He evidently shares the idea of a great many other people that the automobile is not an unmixed blessing. The world could hardly do without the automobile, the truck and the tractor, but they have ruined many a boy—and girl, too.

"I used a bottle of Chamberlain's Tablets some time ago and they proved to be just what I needed," writes Mrs. Volta Bankson, Chillicothe, Mo. "They not only relieved me of indigestion but toned up my liver and rid me of backache and dizziness that I had been subject to for some time. They did me a world of good and I will always speak a good word for them."

Despondency.

Sufferers from indigestion are apt to become discouraged and feel that complete recovery is not to be hoped for. No one could make a greater mistake. Hundreds have been permanently cured by taking Chamberlain's Tablets and can now eat anything that they crave. These tablets strengthen the stomach and enable it to perform its functions naturally. If you have not tried them do so at once.

The Best Advertisement.

The best advertisement any merchant can have is a satisfied customer. No greater recommendation can be given an article than the following by E. B. Milburn, Prop., Guion Drug Store, Guion, Ark. "We have sold Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for years and have always found that it gives perfect satisfaction."

The Senate in Washington is taking up the peace treaty now, article by article, and an early test vote is expected. The reading of the articles alone requires a week's work by the clerk. He estimates that he can read the instrument in 27 hours.

The Storm in the Gulf Coast Country.

A hurricane that brewed in the Gulf of Mexico last week, struck the Texas coast Sunday afternoon. The territory between Corpus Christi and Brownsville had the most damage by the storm. Heavy damage was suffered at Corpus Christi, the business district being under water Monday morning. Martial law was declared in the city Sunday night. A number of people lost their lives. In Galveston the heavy tide caused only slight damage. Port Aransas with its 600 people is reported demolished. The people, however, are said to have escaped inland. The wind reached a velocity of 90 miles at Corpus Christi, 65 miles at Galveston and 54 miles at San Antonio Sunday night.

Later reports give the number of victims of the storm at 250, and more, of which Corpus Christi had over 60. Two thirds of that city's wealth is destroyed and the loss is estimated at 15 million dollars. 3,000 to 4,000 people lost all they possessed, just saved their lives and the clothes they wore. Hundreds of houses in the district are washed away. Many bodies are buried unidentified. There was no news of Port Aransas and Rockport. Numerous parties are at work to relieve suffering people. Soldiers and airplanes are ordered to help in the relief work. Rockport and Port Aransas sent telegrams to Governor Hobby Tuesday night, asking for help. Rockport then was three feet under water and without provisions to feed the people. Port Aransas harbor and town are practically destroyed. Half of the people of Aransas Pass are homeless. The places are under martial law.

More than $10,000 was raised in San Antonio Wednesday morning for the stricken towns in the gulf coast country and trains with supplies for the suffering people were sent.

Records Show Rube Marquard One of the Most Dependable Among Brooklyn's Twirlers

Uncle Wilbert Robinson was having troubles enough with his once highly touted pitching staff when Rube Marquard went and broke a bone in his leg, to be laid up for six weeks or more. Now a lot of fans would say that the absence of Marquard should not mean much, but a study of performances this season indicates the Rube should be rated higher than he is generally regarded.

Previous to leaving for the road tour, Rube twirled A-1 ball, was the only Robin hurler to take the measure of the Giants and won his game in Boston most handily.

It is not entirely the fault of Rube that his record is not better than .500. His last game against the Reds was the only one all season in which he was roughly treated. His other two defeats were at the hands of the Cubs and Reds.

Rube Marquard.

The Boston Braves are credited with 11 hits off Rube's delivery. These were garnered in the last innings of a game in which the Robins had a seven-run lead and Marquard was taking things easy.

LIVER DIDN'T ACT DIGESTION WAS BAD

Says 65 year Old Kentucky Lady, Who Tells How She Was Relieved After a Few Doses of Black-Draught.

Meadersville, Ky.—Mrs. Cynthia Higginbotham, of this town, says: "At my age, which is 65, the liver does not act so well as when young. A few years ago, my stomach was all out of fix. I was constipated, my liver didn't act. My digestion was bad, and it took so little to upset me. My appetite was gone. I was very weak... I decided I would give Black-Draught a thorough trial as I knew it was highly recommended for this trouble. I began taking it. I felt better after a few doses. My appetite improved and I became stronger. My bowels acted naturally and the least trouble was soon righted with a few doses of Black-Draught." Seventy years of successful use has made Thedford's Black-Draught a standard, household remedy. Every member, of every family, at times, need the help that Black-Draught can give in cleansing the system and relieving the troubles that come from constipation, indigestion, lazy liver, etc. You cannot keep well unless your stomach, liver and bowels are in good working order. ## Sad Death of Little Alta de Montel.

One of the saddest accidents that has ever occurred in this county was the drowning on last Saturday of the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee de Montel, Alta D., aged three years.

The accident and the circumstances surrounding it, as related to the New Era by Mrs. de Montel, were as follows:

"The little girl had been visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Hay, above Medina, for four weeks and Mrs. de Montel went up there in a two horse buggy to bring her home. On Saturday as she and the two horses were crossing the Medina at the first crossing below Medina, the mother stopped the team in the water to get a drink for the little girl. As Mrs. de Montel reached down with the cup to get the water the child in some way fell out of the buggy, for as the mother raised up she saw her just going under the water on the lower side of the buggy. The water was deep and swift and the river bottom very rough. Mrs. de Montel says she does not know what happened for the next few moments, as when she came to herself she was struggling in the water which was up to her neck, and was almost exhausted. She had washed down the river some distance and could no longer find any trace of the child, so she struggled back to the buggy and drove the team with all possible haste down to the Gilbert home to get help. The Gilbert boys came back with her and after about twenty minutes from the time the child fell into the water she was found lodged against a log some 200 yards below the crossing. She was apparently lifeless, but her pulse showed that there was still some hope. There being no phone connections, it was impossible to get a physician, so the mother and friends worked heroically to resuscitate the little one, but after a few minutes, the child stopped and the sweet little one had passed out and into the presence of God.

The little body was laid to rest Sunday afternoon in the Bandera cemetery, Rev. J. W. Childers conducting the funeral service. Many of the relatives and friends gathered to pay their respects and to render loving sympathy to the heart-broken family. May they have the sustaining grace of the Heavenly Father to comfort them in this sad and trying hour.—Bandera New Era.

Anent the Influenza.

Last week I called your attention to the probability of a recurrence of influenza this fall and winter and stated that in the past the death rate grew larger with each recurrence. Since that time reports have reached this Department of cases of influenza in three widely separated sections of the State.

While there are many things that have always acted as leading factors in promoting public health work, the dominating impulse should be the desire to prevent sickness, suffering and death, a love for one's fellow man and the desire to do everything possible to add to his comfort and welfare. Civic and personal pride follows closely as a fact or promoting public health, for a desire to have the cleanest house and the cleanest town should be the pride of every one.

I am now calling upon you to set aside one day this week as "CLEAN UP AND ORGANIZATION DAY." Do not stop until you have organized your forces and given your town a thorough cleaning. After a thorough clean up, let us have for our motto "No more trash littered back yards, streets or alleys. No more vacant lots overgrown with weeds and grass. No more pools of stagnant water." I am asking that all Health Boards call a meeting this week and invite the School Boards, The Commercial Clubs, The Parent-Teachers Associations, The Physicians and Nurses, and all other organizations interested in problems of health, be invited to participate and at this meeting organize forces, perfect plans for a present clean up, and provide for follow up workers and emergency demands that may arise.

In anticipation of an epidemic of influenza or one of any other nature, organize your forces, enroll your workers and have everything ready to meet an emergency at a moment's notice.

If your numbers will permit I suggest that the following officers and committees be appointed, and charged with looking after that particular phase of the work:

1. A President, or Superintendent of Public Health, with a Secretary.
2. A Committee to raise funds to meet the demands, present and future.
3. A Committee of Follow-up workers, or Inspectors to see that everything is kept in proper shape after having been put in proper condition.
4. A Committee on Law Enforcement, to see that all sanitary laws are enforced and all offenders prosecuted.
5. A Committee on PUBLIC HEALTH EDUCATION. This committee should be composed of Physicians and Nurses, who are willing to devote a short time at stated intervals, to giving instructions in public health rules, work and problems.
6. A RELIEF COMMITTEE whose duty it shall be to see that all indigent cases are supplied with necessary medical attention, food and clothing during any epidemic.

7. A Committee of VOLUNTEER WORKERS. This committee should enroll the names of all physicians and nurses, trained and practical, who are willing to respond to requests of the relief committee and give free medical attention to indigents who are not wards of the City or County.

Where your numbers will not permit of organizing so many different committees, you can combine duties and arrange so that all the above mentioned features will be taken care of by such a number of committees as you are able to organize.

That old cry of "the town is broke, we have no funds", can no longer be tolerated, especially since the work necessary entails no heavy expense, and promises so much in return.

PUBLIC OPINION is the one influence that knows no restraint, that puts into practice that old adage "Where there is a will, there is a way." It is now up to you to create that sentiment, and you can and in the name of interest and humanity, you should do it.

It is your duty to do so, and your towns will be healthier and more attractive by your having done so, and your conscience will be clear by having done your duty toward yourself and your fellow man.

C. W. GODDARD, M. D.,
State Health Officer.

HOSPITAL NURSE PRAISES TANLAC.

Gains Eleven Pounds And Is Feeling Fine Since Taking Tanlac.

"Tanlac did so much for me that I feel it my duty to tell others about this medicine," said C. M. Rhamey, a professional nurse living at the Hotel George, on Sixth street, San Francisco, Cal., recently. Mr. Rhamey has been nursing patients in the hospitals for the past eight years.

"Last February," he continued, "owing to an accident in which my leg was broken I was confined to my bed for several weeks. I lost my appetite and could hardly eat anything to nourish me, consequently I lost weight. I took several different kinds of tonics, hoping they would help build me up but they did me no good.

"One morning I read a statement by a lady in Los Angeles who said she had gotten such wonderful benefits from taking Tanlac that I decided to try it myself. By the time I had finished half of my first bottle my appetite returned and I felt hungry for the first time in weeks. From then on I started right in to pick up and my appetite got better and better and I slept better at night. I have already gained eleven pounds and am feeling just fine; even my doctor has remarked how much better I am looking. I would never allow my name to be used in connection with a medicine before, but I have had such excellent results from using Tanlac that I take great pleasure in recommending it to anyone needing a medicine to build up the system."

Tanlac is sold by leading druggists everywhere.
